ASHBY & MILLSBAUGH.

A DEBUTANTE.

I saw you stand smiling as many another
Has stood before now in a soft blaze of light,
Receiving your friends by the side of your mother,
A beautiful thing all apperelled in white;
And as you stood looking so happy together,
Behind you the scroll of your gentle past
furled,
I couldn't help wondering curiously whether
Would win in the struggle—your soul or the world.
I couldn't help casting a glance up the vista
Of time, and endeavoring, in vain, to surmise
How the future will seem when you taste,
like your sister,
The fruit of experience that makes one so wise.
Do you think you'll be crushed 'neath the load of attractions
That drag you to earth from your heaven above?
Do you think you'll find time 'mid your thousand distractions
To halloo a few happy moments with love?
Child! when the trial in store for you dashes
Your day dreams to fragments, shall you also pray,
Like many before you, that out of the ashes
Of joys that are past you may still think today
Was a day whose remembrance will brighten
the ages
You'll pass ere another seems like it? . . .
And yet
It hardly seems fair on the first of the pages
Of your Book of Life to emblazon—Regret,

Bishop Worthington, of the Episcopal church, arrived in the city Tuesday on a pastoral visit.
The republicans of the city are moving very easily in the campaign, and each ward is represented by a club.
By all means let us have a hospital, and not allow sectarian intolerance prevent us from accomplishing that end.
S. B. Brierly and W. C. Blackmore of Mad- rid, Perkins county, Nebraska, spent the past week in the Capital City.
A party of young folks who were pupils of Mr. Mahler, will give a dancing party at Temple hall Friday evening.
Boils, pimples, hives, ringworm, tetter, and all other manifestations of impure blood are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.
Prof. E. O. Schwagerl, the landscape archi- tect, is happy once more, his wife and child having arrived in the city this week.
Ex-Senator Ben Harrison, the son of "old Tippecanoe," addressed a large audience Wednesday evening in Bohannan's hall.
This being the first week of the children's column it will necessarily, not be as complete as heretofore, when more fully established.
Mrs. Gaylord of Bridgeport, Conn., after a pleasant visit with the family of Mr. Thos. Fitzgerald, returned to her home Thursday.
Interesting revival services are being held at the Christian church. Rev. Ira Chase is conducting the meetings, and much good has resulted.
A number of young folks from the Univer- sity, together with several couples of resi- dents, will trip the light fantastic at Masonic Temple Wednesday evening.
Mr. F. M. Woods, the live stock auction- eer, superintended a sale of Percherons at St. Marys, Kas., Thursday. The Colonel is in great demand in that capacity.
Mr. C. E. Waite was called to Auburn Sunday by the serious illness of his sister, Miss Cora, who has since died. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of numerous friends in Lincoln.
Miss Fannie Barnard of Richmond, Ky., and Miss Hettie Haas of St. Joseph, Mo., who has been visiting Mr. Oppenheimer on N street for the last four weeks, returned to St. Joseph Monday.
Mrs. Manatt was summoned by telegraph Thursday to the bedside of her mother, who took suddenly ill at her home in Grinnell, Ia. Mrs. Manatt left on the afternoon train and will be gone about two weeks.
A. C. Hight left Thursday for Denver on a real estate transaction. Mr. Hight recently returned from California and stopped at Denver, where he reports the boom as being on. He will remain about a week.
Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jansen, after spending the winter in California, returned home Sunday and speak of the trip and visit as having been very enjoyable from beginning to end. They report Mrs. McMurry's daughter, Miss Tote, as being in good health and still in California.
The Badger Lumber company have several new wagons made specially for hauling heavy loads of lumber. Al says they are the "canary bird lumber wagons" and as the Badger always leads it is but but justice to say they are the most attractive wagons for that line in the city.
Miss Gretchen Marquette leaves this afternoon for a trip east. On her return from Greenwood early next week Miss Marquette anticipates a visit to her friend, Miss McCoun- iff, who is at present sojourning in Denver.
The Modern Woodmen will entertain their friends at Masonic Temple hall Thursday evening.
The Courier has now in course of transit from New York among other fine stationery, several kinds of leaf year novelties for par- ties and entertainments, announcements, pro- grams, etc. bearing illuminated designs ap- propriate for such occasions. As soon as the goods arrive notice will be given in these col- umns, and we shall be pleased to have the ladies call and see them.
The following item which will prove interest- ing to Lincoln friends of the lady, ap- peared in the Omaha Excelsior of last Sat- urday, under the heading of "The Army":
"The news drifts to us from Washington that Miss Jennie L. Hayden, of Omaha, who has been spending the winter there, has been caught by an army officer, Lieutenant C. A. Bennett of the Third artillery. The wedding is dated for the first week in April. Miss Hayden is at present with her brother, Mr. Kent K. Hayden, in Lincoln, Neb. We have every reason to congratulate her, not only upon her happy future, but upon being allied to such a popular regiment as the Third ar- tillery."

Installation of the Elks.

The lodge of benevolent protective order of Elks recently organized in this city, will be installed this afternoon at Knights of Pythons Castle hall. At one o'clock the initiatory ceremonies will be opened by Mr. Jack Francis of Omaha, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, and it is expected that if no unforeseen accident occurs, the aid of members of the Omaha lodge, the work of showing the boys the mysteries of the order, will be completed by about half-past nine this evening.
The city at this writing contains over half of the membership of the Omaha Elk lodge, also a large number of Elks from Kansas City, and it is anticipated that "our boys" will be shown much fun before the sun rises tomorrow, but it is confidentially expected that the visitors will have the bulk of the amusement. However, on behalf of those of our young men who are troubled with heart disease, the Courier earnestly requests Mr. Francis to be easy on such as look timid and weak.
The officers to be installed after the initiation including the appointive officers, are as follows:
F. C. Zehring, Exalted Ruler.
H. H. Toward, Esteemed Loyal Knight.
M. McKinnon, Esteemed Loyal Knight.
C. E. Magoon, Esteemed Lecturer.
H. P. Heiskell, Tyler.
E. J. Sisson, Inner Guard.
G. W. Bonnell, Esquire.
Trustees—C. C. Burr, J. H. Harley and F. L. Sheldon.
After the ceremonies at at Knights of Pythons hall to-night, a grand banquet, as is popular with the Elk fraternity, will be spread at the Windsor hotel at ten o'clock.
To the members of the Elk fraternity now in the city from abroad the Courier extends greetings of welcome, wishing them a pleasant time while in the Capital City of Nebraska, and although unable to follow Kansas City's hospitality in presenting the Omaha Elks with the keys to the metropolis, we grant them the freedom of the city with open doors. To our own new lodge of Elks we wish a life of prosperity and an existence full of usefulness, profit and enjoyment.
"Casualties (?)"
The firm of Huffman & Richter have been on the sick list for a few days this week.
Mr. Huffman indulging in the fashion- able and "swell" complaint called Gout.
Mr. Richter satisfied himself in a humble way by having the measles. He is a most amiable invalid, but requires much petting and six meals a day. Mr. R. is around again but we are pained to mention that silk hand- kerchiefs were used in place of collars.
Born.
Mr. H. M. Bushnell, Lincoln representative of the Omaha Bee, is rejoicing over the arrival of a handsome pair of twins—daughters—at his home. Henry's to you, Bush.
To Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Hawkins, formerly of Lincoln, a nine pound boy, The Courier, with many other friends, extends its congratulations. The above event makes Rev. Mr. Hawkins a grandpa once more.
Through an oversight last week we re- gretted to make mention of the new addition to the happy family circle of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Newmark on M street. Their cozy home has been enlightened by the arrival of a handsome girl baby of the regular size and weight. The little stranger will hereafter be known as Miss Nellie Newmark, and the Courier wishes her a long life full of happiness.
Sam Hudson was landing out Havanas to his friends on O street as he came down Wednesday. Information as to the cause of supplying the public with this fragrant weed, revealed the fact that a bran new boy had arrived at his home, 1613 R street. Sam was on the road when the stranger arrived, but he arrived home by the lightning express to welcome the newcomer, and says he is a beauty—looks just like his pa. Mother and son doing well, and if proper treatment and care is given the father it is expected he will yet recover. However, the Courier extends congratulations to all concerned.
Death of Gen. Wilson.
Gen. Alex. Wilson, father of Mrs. D. D. Muir, died at the residence of his daughter, 1228 R street, on Monday evening last. Mr. Wilson arrived in Lincoln last autumn on his way to Colorado, but on account of ill health could not proceed further, and gradually sank until death came to his relief. The funeral occurred Thursday afternoon. The Courier extends its sincerest sympathy to the bereaved friends and relatives.
Something Novel.
Our many friends will please notice in this edition of the COURIER that one column is being devoted to the children of the city. Everything contained therein has been written for the COURIER by children of Lincoln, under the age of fourteen years, they choosing their own subjects, notes, etc. The articles are printed exactly as sent in by the little ones. They are quite interesting and funny. They have received no aid from any one, or even any suggestions, excepting the request that they write something for the COURIER. One of the mothers said to us, "What is it that my little boy is trying to do? He came the other day from what he called the 'CAPITAL CITY COURIER CLUB,' saying that he must write something for the 'Interior' (meaning COURIER)."
The little ones have organized themselves into a club, elected a president and secretary, and are ready for work. When we remember that they are all under fourteen years, and many under ten, their little place in the Courier is not without interest. Any child under the age of 14 is requested to contribute to the children's column, and all communica- tions may be sent to the secretary, care COURIER.
Emmett Anniversary.
Temple hall was filled to overflowing Monday evening on the occasion of the Emmett anniversary by the Celtic club of this city. Hon. Patrick Egan presided, opening the meeting with one of his soul-stirring speeches. Excellently rendered solos by Mrs. Weber and Mr. Lawlor were followed by a speech by Hon. M. V. Gannon, of Omaha. The gifted speaker paid an elegant tribute to Emmett as a patriot and an Irishman, following with a strong plea for Irish independence and recog- nition as a nation.
Miss May Flanagan added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening by her excellent singing of "The Isle That's Crowned With Shamrock." She was followed by Mr. N. J. Coyle, who recited one of Emmett's poems, and by Miss Lottie Eckhard in a solo, "The Exile's Lament." Remarks were also made by Hon. P. O. Cassidy and O. P. Mason, the meeting closing with the singing of "Shall Erin's Harp Strings Croak no More" by M. M. Corcoran.
A Progressive Euchre Party was given by Miss Kirker at her beautiful home, 626 South Seventeenth street Saturday evening. Those present were: Miss Louise Found, May Thibault, Edna Hyatt, Julia Lippincott, Annie Woiswood, Mabel Tuttle and Messrs. J. B. McDonald, A. E. Ferrin, Roscoe Found, H. C. Cope, Burt Bonnell and John Lyons.
The royal prize was won by Miss Lippin- cott, and the booby prize by Mr. McDonald. At 10 p. m. tables were cleared of cards, and elegant refreshments were served.
The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

ONE OF THE FINEST.

The New Fashion Emporium of Messrs. Huffman & Richter.
For some time past the new and well and favorably known merchant tailors, Messrs. Huffman & Richter, have been busily engaged arranging and fitting up their elegant new quarters, 1204 and 1206 O street, in the new Burr block, and it may now be said that they are certainly owners of the finest stock of high grade tailoring goods and one of the finest establishments in the entire west. To compare either their stock or their place of business to that of any other house in the city would be folly, for in this instance it may be truthfully cited that "comparisons are odious."
Stepping in at this popular beehive of fashion yesterday we found Messrs. Huffman and Richter both busy waiting on patrons, and after a wait of several minutes conversed with one of the firm, regarding the change, if there be any, in the style of cutting for spring wear.
"Well," said he, "I don't know as the change are very great ones, nothing great enough in fact to create a social sensation, but of course as the styles always vary from one season to another, there are, of course, some changes noticeable for the spring of 1888."
"The cut of garments which are now fashionable are in every sense of the word artistic. There is not an exaggerated feature popular, everything is in accord with the lines of the body without following them so closely as to suggest the 'paper-on-the-wall' style of fit. The coloring of fabrics is almost marvelous in its subdued richness and pleasing effects, and the weaves and patterns which are popular are delicate and beautiful."
"All coats are made soft, so as to roll free when thrown open. Shoulders are wider than they were last season. Suits are looser with wider backs. On single breasted coats the roll is about the same as it was last fall, ranging from 4 1/2 to 6 inches deep, a fair average being 5 inches. Sleeves and trousers are larger, and the tendency is towards a still more pronounced increase in size. Vests are larger, open lower, and those of the curved crease form do not have the crease so greatly curved as last year. The tendency is toward plaids, but stripes and checks will be chiefly worn, and in overcoats the Chesterfield will be in demand."
In looking over their elegant stock, which is undoubtedly the finest assortment and the largest in the state, we notice such a goods as have never before been shown in Lincoln. The variety to select from embraces everything and anything that the most fastidious taste could desire, from the customary business suit to the finest dress suit for evening wear, for the party, reception or the most fashionable ball.
A feature that Huffman & Richter have, and an extraordinary advantage over their competi- tors, is that of being direct importers of foreign fabrics. This class of goods are received in Lin- coln by them in the original packages, giving exclusive styles of patterns and material to the customer. This in itself is a great feature, and by leaders of fashion is a great inducement.
Mr. Wiley, the firm's fine cutter, was seen at his post of duty "head over heels" in work. Mr. Wiley, during his short sojourn in Lincoln as cutter for this establishment, has gained a reputation for artistic work that characterizes him as a master of the art.
It is not necessary for the COURIER to go into detail regarding the various merits of the work turned out by Messrs. Huffman & Richter, or the line of goods they carry, for everyone that has lived in Lincoln 30 days knows who the lead- ing tailors are and where they may be found. It is but necessary for us to add that you should visit their elegant new quarters to inspect their spring goods and styles.
A Reception.
Gov. Thayer and staff were given a very pleasant reception Wednesday evening by the Lincoln Bank K. of P. at Castle hall. The governor recently appointed two members of the division to his staff, a recognition of the boys desired to show their appreciation of the evening was very pleasantly passed in listening to short talks and speeches from the visitors, as well as from the Knights, Apollo division displaying its excellence in the sword drill for the entertainment of the guests. It was an occasion long to be remembered.
An Unfortunate Fall.
While on the way to school last Thursday little Pearl Bonnell, daughter of J. C. Bonnell, fell and broke her wrist. The fracture is quite serious but it is hoped that time and careful treatment will make it right again.
At the Dancing School.
It has been remarked that Miss Hawkins pays particular attention to politeness in her Saturday afternoon dancing school for chil- dren, having certain rules which are strictly obeyed.
Pupils are never allowed to run across the hall. The young gentlemen are not allowed to leave their partner without excusing them- selves or visa versa. Gum is not allowed to be used.
Gentlemen are obliged to use their hand- kerchief in holding the waist of a lady.
"Thank you" and "Please" are uppermost in the minds of the little ones. All are obliged to say good night to their instructor. We might mention numerous other good rules, but suffice to say that visitors are always wel- come who can easily see for themselves.
White Goods.
Checked and striped namook, fifty pieces, worth from 15 to 25 cts a yard, all to be sold at 10 cts a yard for three days only, begin- ning Monday, March 11.
ASHBY & MILLSBAUGH.
Excursion West and Northwest.
Daily excursions have been arranged for over the Union Pacific Railway to San Fran- cisco, San Diego, Colton, Los Angeles, San Bernardino and San Jose, California, also to Portland, Oregon, at $80.00 for the round trip. Tickets are good 60 days for going pas- sage and good for the return trip for six months from date of sale with the usual stop- over privileges in both directions within these limits.
These tickets are also good by way of Den- ver and Salt Lake City in each direction. The agent, Mr. E. B. Slosson, tells us quite a num- ber of our townsmen are thinking of making the trip soon, and it would be well for those intending to go in select parties to see him and arrange for their accommodations.
Mr. John B. Frawley, traveling agent, Union Pacific, at Omaha, Neb., will give you any further information in regard to these excursions. Parties who prefer an accom- modation with Mr. J. S. Tobetts, G. V. & T. A., Omaha, Neb.
Don't Get Caught
This spring with your blood full of impuri- ties, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease— but get yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands un- equalled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.
Removal of Crystal Laundry Office.
On Thursday next the Crystal Sizing Lau- ndry will move to its new and elegant up- town office on Twelfth street in the Burr block. The office has been fitted up in first class style, and as the location is central and one of the most prominent in the city, the change will be beneficial to both the lau- ndry company and its patrons.
